

Have Knee Pain?

Diagnosed with OSTEOARTHRITIS (OA)
of the knee?

You may be eligible to participate in a clinical trial.

Why should I participate?

It is anticipated that this study treatment will provide relief of pain due to OA of the knee, but this benefit is not guaranteed.

This trial will gather more information about an approved treatment in patients who are diagnosed with pain due to OA of the knee.

How does the clinical trial work?

This trial will assess the safety and performance of HYMOVIS® combined with a physical exercise program as compared to physical exercise alone for reducing pain due to OA of the knee.

You will be randomized to one of these treatment options. HYMOVIS® treatment consists of two weekly injections into the knee joint to relieve knee pain caused by knee OA. It is intended for those who do not get adequate pain relief from simple pain relievers like acetaminophen or from exercise and physical therapy. Voluntary participation will last approximately 6-9 months, with multiple clinic visits during this time. The physical exercise program arm will have the option later in the study to receive HYMOVIS®.

You may be eligible if you are:

- Aged 21-55 years
- Physically active
- Have persistent knee pain lasting at least 3 months

But, you may not be eligible if:

- Had surgery to either of your knees in the last year
- Had total knee joint replacement
- Participated in a clinical drug or device study in the last 90 days.

The study personnel will inform you if you qualify to participate.

What are the benefits and risks?

With any clinical trial, there are potential risks and benefits. The study personnel will inform you of these benefits and risks.

If you decide to participate and are eligible, you will be asked to complete:

- Screening procedures
- X-Ray & health assessments
- Report medication use & pain levels
- Between 5-7 clinic visits

You will be compensated for incidental expenses to cover out of pocket and travel expenses for follow up visits.
